Overview and Milestones

US inbound market leader since 1955, ATP (formerly AlliedTPro), is a dynamic destination management specialist offering a wide range of land-based services and accommodation in the USA and Canada. Over the years, ATP has developed an impeccable reputation for customizing travel programs for the leisure and MICE travelers, specifically designed to meet our clients' unique preferences. We are perfectly sized to obtain the best available pricing through our volume, but remain small enough to maintain a close personal contact with our partners.

Through the confidence and trust of both our partners and our suppliers, ATP is committed to create the best value for our discerning customers. With quality, reliability, efficiency, integrity, and competitive pricing as operating tools, our team remains dedicated to delivering a total travel product that is precisely tailored to the individual wishes and needs of our guests, be it individuals or a group.
